WILSON AMAZED AT THREAT OF RAIL MEN

ASTOUNDED AT POSSIBILITY OF RAIL TIE-UP AT PRESENT
NATIONAL CRISIS.

MAY ADDRESS BOTH SIDES

Certain Roads Take Precautions By Declaring Some Embargoes.

(Associated Press)

Washington, Mch. 14—President Wilson is amazed at the proposal of a nation-wide railway strike at this juncture of international affairs, but he expects the railroad heads and the men in their conference as New York tomorrow to make every effort to reach an agreement. In fact Wilson may appeal to both sides.

Wilson is so near complete recovery from his cold that he attended to public business today in his study.

Prepare for Strike.

Chicago, Mch. 14—Certain railroads have notified shippers on western lines of embargoes, due to the threat of the brotherhoods to strike Saturday.

Chicago, Mar. 14—The general conference committee of railroad managers in New York will refuse definitely to grant the eight-hour day with ten hours' pay, is the prediction of railway officials in Chicago. They predict that President Wilson then will intervene, as the strike situation has been in his hands since last August.

All local and general chairmen of the employees of the railroads that have been selected to strike, have received circulars signed by the chief executives of the brotherhoods, in which the plan of the campaign is outlined. After a detailed statement of the action of the meeting in Cleveland, Saturday, it states:

Rail Employees Issue Statement.

"While we are prepared for the worst, the die has been cast. There is no turning back. But we hope and believe a strike can be won without the passenger men leaving the service.

"If it becomes necessary to leave the service on any property, we will not hesitate to call upon as many lines as necessary to make this movement a success, and while it is necessary for some system or group of lines to make the issue first, our confidence in our membership on all the lines is the same should it be necessary to call on them."

The chief executives also explain why the passenger, milk and mail trains will be permitted to run for five days. They state that the object is to inconvenience people as little as possible, but that it also was true that in strikes that lasted any time, passenger trains are run to a greater or lesser degree.

If the general conference committee rejects the ultimatum to be presented by the brotherhood leaders and President Wilson fails to intervene, the first strike will begin at 5 p. m., eastern time, Saturday night.

Headquarters at Chicago.

Seven officials of the brotherhoods who will have charge of the strike in the central west will make their headquarters in Chicago. They are: Frank A. Burgess and Ash Kennedy, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; James Murdock and Robert McIntyre, of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; Timothy Shea and S. A. Boone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; and W. C. Turner, of the Order of Railroad Conductors.

These seven officials will attend a meeting in Chicago Friday of the general and local chairmen of the railroads that will be involved in the strike. After the meeting those who live in the west will depart immediately for their homes, to reach there before the strike is called.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

The Mission Band of Grace Evangelical church will hold an oratorical service at the church the coming Sunday evening in a contest for a silver medal. This will take the place of the regular service, as the pastor, Rev. John Divan, will be away attending the Evangelical conference.

COLOMBIA PACT GETS O. K. OF SENATORS

Committee Restores Pay but Makes Vital Changes.

Washington, Mar. 14—The senate foreign relations committee approved in modified form the treaty with Colombia, by which the United States will pay that republic $25,000,000 for the partition of Panama. It will be pressed to a vote in the present special senate session.

Two important changes were made in the treaty. Instead of an expression of "sincere regret" by the United States for the partition of Panama, the new treaty contains a joint expression of regret both by the United States and Colombia for any incidents that have marred the friendly feeling between the two nations.

A special article would have Colombia acknowledge the title of the United States to the Canal Zone. An amendment to the original treaty attached last session reducing the payment from $25,000,000 to $15,000,000 was stricken out.

FRACTURED SKULL IN FALL FROM HORSE

THOMAS REED OF POLO BROUGHT TO DIXON HOSPITAL
BADLY HURT.

HAS REGAINED CONSCIOUSNESS

Thomas Reed, aged 17, who has been working on the Garrison farm in Pine Creek, suffered a severe fracture of the skull late Tuesday when he was thrown from a horse.

The young man was brought to Dixon and is now at the Dixon hospital, and will recover. An emergency operation was performed at the local hospital last evening, about two square inches of crushed bone being removed from the skull, relieving the pressure on the brain, which would have soon caused death.

Tells of Accident.

Mr. Reed was conscious this morning and told the story of his accident. He said he was intending to go to Oregon to have a tooth extracted, and saddled a horse that had not been ridden much. The animal threw him when he first mounted, but he got back into the saddle and started out. Just as the horse passed through the front gate at the farmyard it "bucked" again and threw him to the ground. His head struck a cement post, crushing the skull.

BRITISH TAKE TOWN AFTER BAGDAD COUP

Kazimain, Five Miles Beyond
Sacred City, Falls.

London, Mar. 14—British cavalry, advancing from Bagdad, has occupied Kazimain, on the Tigris river, five miles above Bagdad, it was officially announced. The occupation took place March 11.

Considerable booty was taken in Bagdad. Five hundred wounded were left in the city and made prisoner by the British.

"Since Feb. 23," says the official statement, "the Turks had been busy destroying and removing everything of value in Bagdad."

"A considerable amount of booty nevertheless fell into our hands, including large quantities of equipment, arms and ammunition. Five hundred Turkish wounded also were abandoned by the enemy."

"On the left bank of the Tigris between 200 and 300 Turkish dead were counted on Saturday and 300 prisoners were taken."

SPRINGFIELD DRYS PLAN BATTLE

Springfield, Mch. 14—The "wet" and "dry" campaign which will end in a vote on the question of abolishing saloons from the capital of Illinois is proceeding quietly and neither side has ventured a positive opinion as to the result. The issue will be up at the April 6th election.

Springfield was kept in the wet column in 1914 by a vote of 3,952, the result being 12,161 in favor of retaining dram shops and 8,209 against them. At this election the women's vote showed 4573 for and 4301 against the saloon.

At the two previous wet elections the results were:
In 1908—for 5997; against 4195.
In 1910—for 5849; against 4498.

ALL OF CREW, MANY OF WHOM ARE AMERICANS, WERE LANDED SAFELY.

U-BOAT REFUSED ASSISTANCE

Washington Withholds All Comment
Pending Receipt of Full Report.

(Associated Press)

London, Mch. 14—A later report from Consul Stephens at Plymouth states that the captain of the Algonquin says the ship was sunk by shell fire and without warning.

The submarine opened fire at daybreak from a distance of 4,000 yards, firing twenty shells. These were not sufficient to sink the Algonquin and men from the submarine boarded the vessel and placed four bombs, which destroyed the ship. The crew was given time to leave before the bombs were exploded.

London, Mch. 14—The American steamship Algonquin has been torpedoed by a German submarine. The crew was saved.

The ship was torpedoed without warning according to the report of the American consul at Plymouth, who stated that all on board were saved.

The torpedoing took place at 6 o'clock Monday morning, and the submarine crew refused assistance, according to the consul. Twenty-seven men were landed.

New York, Mch. 14—The Algonquin was owned by the American Star line of this city and was recently transferred from British registry. Officers of the line said the vessel was worth $450,000, and the cargo, which was mostly foodstuffs, was valued at $1,250,000. There were ten Americans, including the captain, on the ship, the owners announced.

Crew to Get Bonus.

The ship was 2800 tons displacement and was built in Philadelphia. She was commanded by Capt. Norberg who, prior to sailing said, "I feel safer sailing into the war zone flying the American flag than in trying to make my way through New York streets dodging taxi-cabs."

Among the American citizens on board were Wm. T. Holmes of Chicago, the mate, and Charles Schultz of Brooklyn, chief engineer.

The owners agreed to give the officers and crew a bonus for making the trip, with the proviso that in case the vessel was captured or destroyed they were to be paid the bonus and their wages until they returned to the United States.

DOES NOT CHANGE RELATIONS WITH BERLIN

Washington, Mch. 14—In the absence of official dispatches concerning the destruction of the Algonquin, officials withheld comment, but the unofficial view is that nothing in the incident changes the situation between the United States and Germany.

The president has already taken steps to place the nation in a state of armed neutrality, which with breaking of diplomatic relations with Germany, is practically the last measure possible short of war.

Additional American ships are being armed.

The real issue of peace or war with Germany is expected to come when an American armed ship clashes with a German submarine.

WHITMAN'S DECISION DOOMS BOXING IN N.Y.

RING FOLLOWERS SEE GRADUAL DECLINE OF GAME AS RESULT.

DARCY NEGLECTED HIS DUTY

By H. C. Hamilton
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Mich. 14—Any idea any one might have that boxing wasn't on its last legs and tottering unsteadily to its corner for the final round should be thoroughly dissipated by Gov. Whitman's action in New York when he refused to permit Les Darcy to appear in public bouts. Whether it will seep into other states and knock the game clear out of the ring is something else and remains for time to tell. Whitman was severely criticized in many quarters when he took his stand against Darcy, while in other spots he was highly commended. The critics declare he should not have shown discrimination against Darcy, pointing out that Tom Cowler, Freddie Welsh, Ted Lewis and others are allowed to box without interference. They are just as much at fault as is Darcy, for they are Englishmen, whereas Darcy is an Australian, and of Irish descent. Whitman's action seems to have been taken because Darcy had neglected his duty to come to America and get some easy money. The spectacle of a foreigner coming here and separating New Yorkers from their cash because they were easy marks evidently didn't appeal to the governor. The other English boxers were already in this country when war was declared. Darcy made a big mistake when he refused to talk business with Mike Gibbons and promoters from the middle west. Then he listened to bad advice and separated himself from Tim O'Sullivan. Each of these actions caused adverse comment and the people began to kick. Governor Whitman's attention naturally was called to what was going on—he couldn't have helped seeing it if he read the newspapers. Darcy wasn't complimented by any means in the things said about him. If Gov. Whitman got wrong impressions it's Darcy's fault. Money grubbers among the boxers are fast chocking the wind out of the goose that lays the golden egg. It wouldn't be surprising at all if every boxing law in the country was wiped off the books within two or three years.

Methods to Observe In Laundering Colored Silks

For silks, which are now a part of the everyday washing, clean lukewarm water in which good white soap has been dissolved should be used, and there is no need of soda or any of the washing powders, says the Ladies' World. Make a good suds, wash the silk garments, such as crepe de chine, washable satin, pussy willow silk, with as little rubbing as possible, remembering that two soapy waters are far better than one which has been overused. Rinse in several lukewarm waters, and if a white silk a few drops of bluing may be added to the last water.

Much of the new underwear is flesh colored or delicate pink. This color is likely to remain with the method just described; but, to retint, pink coloring may be put into the last water. This may be done by soaking a little colored tissue paper in water or using water color dyes.

The method that has been suggested for white silks will be successful for colored silks and wools as well. All three are composed of delicate fibers and should be washed without rubbing with water no warmer than the temperature of the hand and good quality white soap in the form of a suds. All waters that are used for these fabrics should be of the same temperature, the work should be done as rapidly as is consistent with good results, and the drying should be out of the sun. It is well to press the colored silks in a towel before hanging, as this will absorb surplus moisture and avoid streaks.

Simplicity the Keynote Of House Furnishing

What kind of curtains shall I have for the living room?
What shall be the color of the new wall paper for the dining room?

These are questions that continually confront the housewife and that require care in answering in order that the home may be a harmonious whole. A knowledge of the principles of simplicity, neatness and sincerity as applied to house furnishings is necessary, according to Miss Grace Averill, assistant in home art in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"Many persons have the idea that it costs a great deal to furnish a home tastefully, but this is not true," says Miss Averill. "A few simple furnishings, moderate in price, that go well together are in better taste than a profusion of costly articles that are unrelated. Having only a few necessary pieces of furniture in a room helps to give an air of spaciousness. This is a valuable principle to follow in furnishing the small home."

"The floor and walls should be finished in neutral tones in order to form a background for the furnishings and also for the persons who will occupy the room."

Care of the Hair

Use an egg in washing the hair. Break the egg into a basin. Beat the egg until white and yellow are well mixed; then with the fingers rub the egg into the roots of the hair. Rubbing it well into the scalp is most beneficial, and at least a half hour should be used in this gentle rubbing; then wash the hair with good white soap and warm water until all the egg is removed. Rinse in several warm waters, and lastly in cold. Instead of using soap one may use one part of aqua ammonia to ten parts of water.

FEAR OF STARVATION TREATED AS DISEASE

GERMAN DOCTORS CIRCULATE
COMMENT ON NEW WAR DISEASE.

(By United Press)

Amsterdam, Feb. 18 (by Mail)—An article is being widely printed in Germany dealing with the control of a new "war disease" that German doctors have to combat. Having met and defeated the old war diseases, cholera, typhus, spotted fever and small pox, they now face "psychological starvation."

"This disease," says the article "is of a much more difficult character, as it is mental and is quickly spread from one sufferer to another. It is found, strangely enough, in peaceful countryside where war's alarm has not penetrated. It is fear of starvation, and out of this fear rises a sort of psychological hunger. This confusion of ideas is sometimes exciting, sometimes crippling, and robs one of courage and sense. Fear of starvation will cause many to make luxurious use of available supplies, to use all sorts of tricks in order to attempt to save themselves with a reserve layer of fat for times of still greater scarcity. In thousands of letters, mostly written by women, the writers speak of nothing else but the fear of ultimate starvation."

GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR MUSIC LOVERS

BOSTON ENGLISH OPERA COMPANY TO PRESENT "IL TROVATORE"

The Boston English Opera Company will come to the Dixon Opera House on Wednesday night, March 21st, in a beautiful production of Verdi's immortal masterpiece "Il Trovatore," the world's most tuneful, picturesque opera.

So much has been said of the great artists that comprise the Boston English Opera Company and so well known is the opera Il Trovatore, that it seems almost useless to go into details. However, as there are many people who have a mistaken idea in regard to grand opera, it may not be amiss to say a few words on the subject.

Of all the world's operas "Il Trovatore" is the most popular and certainly the most tuneful.

The anvil chorus is one of the most beautiful numbers ever put on any stage. The setting represents an old gypsy camp, located in an old ruin in the mountains. In the clearing are numerous anvils, used in making the armor for the soldiers before going to the wars.

The famous Miserere in the Tower scene is beyond description; it must be seen and heard to be appreciated. As to the music, when one recalls the great trio at the end of the first act, the world renowned "di Quella Pira," said to be the greatest tenor solo ever written, the fine baritone solo, "Il Balen," and dozens of others, it is easy to realize why "Il Trovatore" has been for fifty years the most popular opera the world has ever known.

(By United Press)

Washington, Mich. 14—Warning to American automobile manufacturers to enter the world markets before the American market becomes "saturated" was voiced by Dr. Edward Ewing Pratt, chief of the U. S. bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, today.

"If the production of automobiles continues its present rate of increase," Dr. Pratt warns, "and unless vital changes are effected, either in the consuming public or in the price of automobiles, the 'saturation' point may not be far off. For the commercial vehicle, however, development has probably only begun in this country."

American automobiles would have no difficulty in overcoming competition abroad, except possibly in the higher priced cars, above $1200, Dr. Pratt declares. European manufacturers, he said, are not equipped to turn out cars on the extensive and highly efficient basis in effect in the United States.

No Eggs, Milk or Butter

The following recipe shows how an appetizing, wholesome cake can be made without expensive ingredients.

In many other recipes the number of eggs may be reduced one-half or more by using an additional quantity of ROYAL Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

EGGLESS, MILKLESS, BUTTERLESS CAKE

1 cup brown sugar
1 1/2 cups water
1 cup seeded raisins
2 ounces citron
3/4 cup shortening

1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups flour
5 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder

The old method (fruit cake) called for 2 eggs

DIRECTIONS—Put the first eight ingredients into saucepan and boil three minutes. When cool, add the flour and baking powder which have been sifted together; mix well. Bake in moderate oven in loaf pan (round tin with hole in center is best) for 35 or 40 minutes. Ice with white icing.

STATE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU
SAYS FARMERS OFFER BIG INDUCEMENTS.

(Associated Press)

Springfield, Mich. 14—Letters received at the office here of the Illinois Free Employment bureau indicate, attaches of the bureau say, that inducements held out by farm employers are greater just now than those offered by the city employers in the city.

Scarcely a farmer offers less than $30 a month, board and room and laundry, it is said, and in some instances wages as high as $38 with the other emoluments thrown in, are suggested.

According to figures given by employment bureau attaches, it costs a man in the city $1 a day for meals, $12 a month for his room and $3.25 for laundry every 30 days. This they calculate, amounts to $45.25 a month and clothing is left entirely out of the calculation.

The city man who is paid from $1 to $25 a week will not have as much money left at the end of the month as the farm hand who is paid $35 per month with the extras included, employment bureau officers figure.

Tonight the Princess theatre will present Kolb & Dill in "The Three Pals." You don't have to believe "The Three Pals" but you have to laugh at them.

This production is the second of the Kolb & Dill Mutual Star productions, coming from the studios of the American Film Co., Inc. at Santa Barbara.

The story of the picture came from the able pens of the photo-playwright team of Ritchie & Whitcomb. It was cast into scenario form by Al Santell. The picture was filmed under the direction of Rea Berger, a director who has put the stamp of success upon a number of American Mutual productions.

Messrs. and Mesdames A. A. Rowland, M. H. Forsythe, Mark Keller, L. R. Trowbridge, and F. X. Newcomer pleasantly surprised Mr. and Mrs. A. W. The stormy night—the wind, rain, and snow were all forgotten in anticipation of the pleasant golf season brought to mind through the presentation of a half dozen golf balls to Mr. Leland with copies of Briggs' comic golf cartoons. Each ball was concealed in fantastic wrappings, and much amusement was produced as one ball after the other was disclosed after much hard labor by the host.

Entertain at Track Meet
It was surely the dark horses that won in the track events scheduled for Tuesday evening at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The affair was given by Miss Powell's class, the Loyal Daughters, to the class of boys taught by Miss Ruef, and though the rain had considerably spoiled the condition of the track, there were quite a number of contestants for all that—thirteen, in fact.

The events of the evening opened by choosing running partners by means of neckties and hair ribbons of the same colors—the girls were given the neckties and the boys the hair ribbons to tie, each on the other and 'tis said the girls bungled more than the boys. The contest of eating unsalted crackers caused a great deal of amusement after it was all over, although it was pretty serious business while in progress. Arthur Altman was pronounced winner in this. Miss Marjorie Slothower was winner in the hurdle race—the tying of knots between ten needles which were threaded on a bit of thread. The records of the foot race, were by motion of the girls, obliterated as the winners in this were the partners who could show the longest total of inches in their feet. The standing high kick—pinning a slip of cardboard with the word "kick" written thereon to the highest point on the wall was conceded to Cedric Fulton even before the contest began. A good many fumbling efforts were made in the pole vaulting, which was the chewing of a yard of thread attached to a stick of striped candy until the candy was reached. All during the races a small boy distributed cracker-jack, gum, and peanuts, which were paid for with beans, won in the different contests. Ice cream and cake were served later in the evening, for which partners were secured by tracing strings which were passed through a tennis racket with the suggestion that there be no more "racketing" between partners. The intermediate Sunday School room, where refreshments were served, was prettily decorated in pennants.

Miss Geraldine Dollmeyer also sang a very pleasing number, accompanied on the piano by Miss Lucile Pearce. About twenty ladies were present. Mrs. Street was assisted by Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Sproul, Mrs. Shawyer, Mrs. Scholl, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Ross, and Mrs. Runion in the entertaining. Appetizing refreshments were served. Mrs. Freeman Ankeny of Sterling, a former member of the class, was the only out-of-town guest.

WHATCHAMA COLUMN

By "Gm" Beefsteak

Beefsteak is an article of food which walks into a slaughter house on four legs and rides out in a wagon in chunks. Some folks like it rare. Exceedingly rare. So rare in fact that they tell the waiter to just cripple theirs and drag it in. Other folks don't like it rare. But with prices what they are they find it rare whether they like it or not. Either mighty rare or totally extinct. One man we know was carried to the hospital the other day singing: "Oh, what is so rare as a day in June? A piece of the cow that jumped over the moon." This condition should not exist. We are in favor of more meat on beefsteak.

Chicago, March 14—Even when the high cost of living is what it is, here's the Fashion Art League of America taking the joy out of life today with the cheering news that the wife must spend $653 for clothes if she's to be properly dressed this year. The league's fashion show opened here today and that was one of the first things sprung. The list does not include house dresses or lounging robes or anything like that; just out door necessities. Here's the ghastly array: 1 tailored gown, $75; 1 tailored top coat, $130; 1 afternoon gown, $110; 2 waists for suit, $40; 1 evening gown, $135; 2 pairs shoes and 1 pair slippers, $24; 2 hats, $35; 1 cor set, $8; 3 pairs gloves, $6; underclothing, $50; stockings, $20. And that's the very lowest you can get it, if your wife's going to look like anything at all, the League says.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

During this present week a school for the instruction of churchmen in advertising is being held in Chicago.

Each day some expert in the work is to speak before ministers and laymen at the rooms of the Chicago Advertising association.

For the first time in the history of the divinity school of the University of Chicago, a lecture on "Church Advertising" was recently delivered.

The speaker was the Rev. Christian F. Reisner, pastor of one of the largest Methodist churches in New York City, and probably the foremost clerical advocate of publicity in church work. Dr. Reisner is chairman of the department of church publicity of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

When Dr. Reisner arose to address the future ministers upon this broad subject he did not lay down a few generalities. He adopted a new method of churchmen in the world today by going straight to the heart of the matter. "It Pays to Advertise," he announced as his topic, and then proceeded to prove it in terms of faith, hope and inspiration as well as in terms of dollars and cents.

"We believe," declared Dr. Reisner, "that the church and religion are just as proper subjects to advertise as the things we eat or wear."

The Beacon-News believes Dr. Reisner is right and also believes it is just and proper to call for an answer to this question:

"If doctors of divinity believe in advertising and consider it 'ethical' to advise their pupils to use it, why do doctors of law, doctors of medicine and doctors of dentistry persist in teaching their pupils that advertising is 'unethical' and a species of trickery fashioned by the evil one?"—Aurora Beacon-News.

OWNERSHIP OF FISH.

The decision of Judge Farrand in the circuit court recently which upholds the injunction secured by Tom Page against the clambers, preventing them from taking clams from the bed of the river fronting on Page's farm on Rock river is, of course, simply upholding a law which has been in Illinois for many generations. But that law should be changed.

The law upon which that decision was based says that not only are the clams in the mud at the bottom of the river the property of the man who owns the riparian rights of the river, but that the fish as well are his property. The only thing the public has is the right to use the surface of that river as a means of travel with a boat.

If the land under the river, the clams in the mud and the fish in the stream are the property of the man who owns the land along the bank of the river, and there is value attached to it, why do not the assessors charge taxes against such property. Such land, as a producer of clams, is worth a good many dollars per acre, for a clam bed is a valuable asset, worth several thousand dollars, in many cases, and develops rapidly in a few years.

And the fish, if they are owned by individuals, why are they protected by law? Why does the public spend great sums of money each year in the introduction and preservation of fish? The public surely does not want to do this simply for the benefit of the few landowners situated along the banks of the river.

The only point in the case at which criticism should be directed is the ancient law, which should be changed by the state legislature so that it would come nearer to giving the public an interest and a right to the use and enjoyment of the rivers of the state and the fish therein contained.

BIRDS.

An ornithological note from Nebraska says that 400 different species of birds are found in that state.

However, not more than 200 of any one species are to be found in any one locality.

Nebraska's most noted bird flits from platform to platform, at times taking on the attributes of the stormy petrel, and then cooing like the turtle dove atop the cote. Upon occasion it resembles the famous shrink bird of Haiti which can reduce with the same ability as the toy balloon when stuck with a pin.

If all public speakers were honest, most speeches would end up in this manner: "And so, ladies and gentlemen, we arrive at the conclusion that we have not reached any conclusion. We know very little about the subject."

Many a young man falls in love with a girl who doesn't exist and then finds that it is a case of mistaken identity.

Do not fill up your conversation with stories of people whom your audience does not know, never will know, nor has any desire to know.

Ambition is responsible for many of life's failures. The average man would rather wobble around in a big place than fill a small one well.

Don't worry about a peevish man. Just let him alone. He'll get over it.

Billy Sunday held a meeting in competition with the return of troops of cavalry and infantry and a speech by Governor Whitman in Buffalo, N. Y., and had a packed house. That is good stuff for the press agent.

Don't let the snow flurries and Arctic weather interfere with the planning of the spring garden.

Harry Thaw has been adjudged insane again and the law has taken him into custody. There doesn't seem to be any doubt about it this time.

Overheated Air.
A rise of temperature in the surrounding air diminishes the amount of oxygen consumed and the amount of dioxide discharged. A fall of temperature has the opposite effect. In addition, the overheated air forms a hot jacket around the body which prevents the radiation of heat necessary to keep the body in a healthy condition. With a sedentary occupation a temperature of from 64 to 70 should be maintained for comfort and health.

Care in Tuberculosis.

Living with a case of tuberculosis is not particularly dangerous if the patient and those around him will exercise proper care. Sputum cups or paper napkins should be used for all discharges of the nose and throat, as well as for matter coughed up from the lungs. Handkerchiefs should not be used, since it is an expensive matter to destroy them, and washing them is not safe unless the soiled handkerchief is boiled immediately after use.

BAPAUME IS NEAR CAPTURE

British Take Over Three Miles of Main Trenches of Stronghold.

London, Mar. 13.—Further retirement of Germans in France is reported both officially and unofficially.

The official reports from British headquarters in France announces the abandonment by the Germans of their main defensive system west of Bapaume on a front of three and a half miles. British troops drove back the German rear guard to a depth of a mile and occupied Grevillers and Loupart wood.

HOW TO START UP YOUR PLACE EARLY IN SPRING.

It would be well to look from time to time to the bulb beds or rows, the strawberry bed and other growths which were covered with straw early in the winter, to be sure the mulch has not blown away. Repeated freezing and thawing of a strawberry bed will almost certainly throw the plants out of the ground unless the bed has been carefully mulched, while a few warm, thawing days may cause tulips and other bulbs to send up shoots if not mulched. Look out for rabbits in young orchards. Head them off by means of preventive measures if they have not already attacked the trees. If they have covered the wounds they have made in the bark with grating wax, with some kind of waterproof paint or even with mud thickly applied. As has been stated before now, a thick coat of whitewash to which has been added enough crude carbolic acid to give the mixture a strong odor will keep rabbits away and will also prevent injury by field mice. The acid in the mixture, carried down the trunks of the trees by rain and impregnating the soil around the roots, will also help materially to keep borers and other larval pests away from the trees.

One suburbanite, keeping chickens on rather a large scale, recently tried the experiment of furnishing the pullets in one colony only house with warm water three times a day, while the same number of pullets of the same age and breed in another colony house were given only cold water. Each house contained fifty pullets. Within ten days after beginning the experiment the pullets receiving the warm water were laying at the rate of more than 50 per cent, the daily average number of eggs from them being twenty-nine, while the fifty pullets in the other house, getting only cold water, have never laid more than fourteen eggs in any one day.

EXPOSED WATER PIPES.

How to Keep Them From Freezing In Cold Weather.

Exposed water pipes are apt to freeze in winter, causing much annoyance, which may be prevented by covering them with the following mixture, says a contributor to Popular Science Monthly: To a solution of thin boiled starch add sawdust until the mixture forms a thick paste. A fine sieve may be used to clear this sawdust from lumps.

Heavy cord is first wrapped around the pipe, spacing the turns about one-half inch. A one-quarter inch layer of the mixture is smeared on and allowed to dry; then a second layer is put on and smoothed up. The string acts as an anchor to make the coating adhere to the pipe closely. Whitewash or paint may be used to give a finish for inside pipes, but for outside work cover the coating with hot tar. If it is desired to have a very neat covering wrap the sawdust coating with cloth or canvas, applying it in narrow strips like a bandage and painting the outside surface. An even coating of the sawdust is necessary when covering with cloth.

NEW DEATH TESTS.

How to Tell When Life Has Actually Ceased.

An Italian scientist describes the following three new methods of determining the cessation of life:

The first is the ether test. A drop of ether is instilled into the conjunctival sac of one eye. If this is followed by a reddening of the conjunctiva it affords proof that the circulation is intact and that life is still present. The other eye is used as a control.

The second test consists in the subcutaneous injection of fluorescein, which, if the individual is still living, is soon followed by a yellowish coloring of the skin, and mucous membrane of the mouth and particularly of the frenum of the tongue show this coloration most distinctly. A negative result is obtained in cases of marked slowing or enfeeblement of the circulation.

The third test consists in direct exploration of the heart by means of a styllet. This is introduced through a small incision in one of the intercostal spaces. Any movement in the heart is communicated to the styllet.

How to Walk and Grow Thin is the Main Question.

Here is a simple method to reduce weight which has been used with great success:

Rise early and take a half hour walk in the air, walking a steady but alert gait. On returning home drink a cup of hot water with plenty of salt. After a light breakfast, leaving the table not quite satisfied, take a hand working vacuum cleaner or carpet sweeper with a long handle and keep up a steady, long reaching movement. This reduces the tops of the arms and removes the fat about the neck. Then take a duster and dust the legs of chairs and stretch to the tops of doors to get a steady bending and stretching movement. The treatment takes about two hours a morning, and by abstemious eating and occasional cupfuls of hot water with salt during the day, also on retiring, the desired result is obtained and the health improved.

SPORTING NEWS

Milwaukee, Mich. 14—Benny Leonard, New York lightweight, and Ritchie Mitchell of Milwaukee, aspirant to the world's championship, have been matched for a ten round, no-decision contest in Milwaukee April 17. This announcement follows the failure of a plan to bring Welsh and Mitchell together at New Orleans in a 20 round bout for the world's championship.

Not since the Wolgast-Ritchie contest in 1914 has there been so much interest in a boxing match in Milwaukee, or perhaps in the west. The two former champions boxed before the greatest crowd in the history of the sport in Milwaukee, $40,000 being the receipts.

Milwaukee, Mich. 14—The application of the Badger Gun club of Milwaukee for a registered tournament in Milwaukee on July 7 and 8 has been approved by the Interstate Trap-shooting association. The association will also contribute prizes and trophies to the winners and the Badger club will add cash prizes to the various purses.

Columbus, Mich. 14—Insisting he is not a pacifist, Joe Tinker, owner of the Columbus club of the American association, balks on military training for members of his squad. "Of course, if there is a call to arms, it would be a good thing," Tinker said. "I would gladly consent to it under those circumstances, but at present I don't think much of the scheme. It seems like a waste of money to send drill sergeants to the camp to instruct 30 or 40 players who are likely to look on the work as mere amusement."

Detroit, Mich. 14—Gilmour Dobie, for several years football coach at the University of Washington, comes to the University of Detroit with an American record unequalled by any other grid-league Nallin led, having coached 11 players.

years without a defeat marked up against any of his teams.

Dobie's elevens have played 52 games, winning 49 and tying three. The grand total of points scored by his team was 1686 against the opponents' 118. The coach has been informed that plenty of good material is on hand to build a strong team at the University of Detroit this fall.

Waxahachie, Tex., Mich. 14—John T. Wood, a pitcher, was the first of the Detroit baseball club's recruits to leave the training camp. His arm, overworked last season, was in such poor condition that even practice was dangerous and he went to Ohio to consult a specialist.

Wood starred last season with the Portsmouth, Va., club of the Virginia league. Toward the end of the season when the pennant race was red-hot, Wood was used continually and his arm paid the penalty.

Waxahachie, Tex., Mich. 14—The most encouraging signs which Manager Jennings of the Detroit Americans has observed thus far, have been the showing made by his veteran pitchers. Jennings feels that the pennant is his if Coveleskie, James, Boland and Dauss look as good from May until October as they are looking now.

Last season when the Tigers trained here Dauss and Boland were in poor health. Each has taken on considerable weight, and it was welcomed, for they are small men. Bill James, according to Jennings already has done as much spring training as he did during his entire stay here a year ago. He is working as hard, if not harder, than any man in the camp, and he seems inspired by Jennings' declaration that he would be one of the greatest pitchers in baseball if he would keep in condition.

Detroit, Mich. 14—Bill Byron, the National league umpire, put more players off the diamond last season than any other umpire in the major leagues; 24 athletes being chased by the Detroit arbiter. In the American record unequalled by any other grid-league Nallin led, having coached 11 players.

EUGENICS BILL KILLED BY TWO TO ONE VOTE

Speaker Shanahan Scores Committee for Duplicity.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Mar. 14. The eugenics bill, intended to prevent marriage of persons afflicted by certain diseases, backed by Dr. Anna Blount and other Chicagoans, was killed in the house after considerable salacious debate.

Representative Kirby decapitated the measure, his motion to strike out the enacting clause carrying by a vote of 42 to 19.

Speaker Shanahan censured the members of his judiciary committee for their action on Lee O'Neill Browne's amendments.

"I am surprised," said the speaker, "that members of one of the most important committees in this house would vote out amendments to a bill and then not stand back of them on the floor of the house."

The amendments sought to make tuberculosis, diabetes and Bright's disease among those that would prevent the issuance of a marriage license.

SYNOPSIS

Murray O'Neil, railroad builder, on his way to Alaska, is a passenger on the Nebraska. The ship runs aground. O'Neil helps Captain Johnny Brennan to quell a panic among the passengers.

As the ship settles O'Neil is accused by a beautiful girl, and he plunges overboard with her. They are picked up by Captain Brennan. She proves to be Natalie Gerard, whose mother is the friend of Curtis Gordon. O'Neil's unscrupulous business rival.

O'Neil and Natalie journey to Hope together. She tells him of her mother and Gordon. When they arrive at Hope Gordon meets them.

O'Neil is impressed with the magnetism of his rival, but is sure his plans are unworkable. Tom Slater quits Gordon for O'Neil. They go to Cortez in time to save Dan Appleton in a crooked card game.

Appleton, an engineer, had worked for Gordon. He casts his fortune with O'Neil. O'Neil leads his men to a wild country, convinced he can build a railroad up the salmon river.

O'Neil meets his crew in Seattle, where a newspaper woman gets on the phone. She proves to be Dan Appleton's sister. O'Neil tells her his plans, but not for publication.

Eliza Appleton is sent to Omar to expose the men who are trying to snatch control of an empire. She meets her brother and Natalie. Dan is worried over a possible newspaper attack by Eliza on O'Neil.

CHAPTER IX.

FAIRIES at Hope were nearly if not quite as prosperous as those at Omar, for Curtis Gordon's advertising had yielded large and quick returns. His experiment during the previous summer of bringing his richest stockholders north had been a great success. They had come ostensibly at his expense and, once on the ground, had allowed themselves to be fairly hypnotized.

He entertained them on a scale that was almost embarrassing, and when they returned to their homes they outdid one another in their praise of the financial genius who was leading them to the promised land of profits and preferred stock. As a matter of course they one and all advised their friends to buy, vouching for the fabulous richness of Hope Consolidated, and since their statements were backed by a personal examination of the property, subscriptions came pouring in.

All in all, the excursion had proved so profitable that Gordon had arranged for another, designed to accommodate new investors and promising "prospects." Preparations for their welcome were under way when Natalie arrived.

The girl and her mother talked late that evening, and Gordon saw on the following morning that Gloria at least had passed a trying night, but he gave himself no uneasiness. Emotional storms were not unusual. He always disregarded them as far as possible, and usually they passed off quietly. During breakfast he informed them:

"I received a letter from Miss Golden yesterday's mail. She is to be one of the new party."

"Did you invite her to return this summer?" Mrs. Gerard inquired.

"Yes."

"I remember her very well," said Natalie—"too well, in fact. I thought her very bold."

"She is one of our largest investors, and she writes she would enjoy spending a fortnight here after the others go back."

"Will you allow it?"

"Allow it! My dear Gloria, I can't possibly refuse. In fact, it would be the height of inhospitality not to urge her to do so. She is welcome to stay as long as she chooses, for these quarters are as much hers as ours. I hope you will be nice to her."

Mrs. Gerard made no answer, but later in the morning sought Gordon in his private office.

"I preferred not to discuss the Golden woman before Natalie," she explained coldly. "But—you don't really intend to have her here, do you?"

"Most assuredly."

"Then I shall have to tell her she is not welcome."

"You will do nothing of the sort, my dear. You will assume the duties of hostess, for which no one is more charmingly qualified."

Mrs. Gerard's lips were white with anger as she retorted:

"I shall not allow that woman under the same roof with Natalie."

"As usual, you choose the most inconvenient occasion for insisting upon your personal dislikes."

"My dislike has nothing to do with the matter. I overlooked her behavior with you last year, as I have overlooked a good many things in the past, but this is asking too much."

Gordon's coldness matched her own as he said:

"I repeat, this is no time for jealousy! It's an insult to Natalie."

books, eh! He had no more right to do that than you had to pry into my affairs. While Miss Golden's investment may not be so large as some others, she has influential friends. She did yeoman service in the cause, and I can't allow your foolish fancies to interfere with my plans."

"Fancies!" cried the woman furiously. "You behaved like a schoolboy with her. It was disgraceful. I refuse to let her associate with my daughter."

"Aren't we drawing rather fine distinctions?" Gordon's lip curled. "In the first place, Natalie has no business here. Since she came, uninvited, for the second time, she must put up with what she finds. I warned you last summer that she might suspect."

"She did. She does. She discovered the truth a year ago," Mrs. Gerard's usually impassive face was distorted.

"Gordon broke in irritably: 'My dear Gloria, spare me this painful fault-finding. If I can win for you I shall do so, and then you will agree that I acted wisely. If I lose—it will merely be the luck of the average investor. We played for big returns and, of course, the risks were great.'

"But Mr. O'Neil told her his claims," Gordon's blazing eyes warned her.

"O'Neil, eh? So he is the 'friend in the land office'?" No doubt he also gave Natalie the suggestion that led to her scene with you. Tell her to occupy herself less with affairs which do not concern her and more with her own conduct. Her actions with that upstart have been outrageous."

"What about your own actions with the Golden woman?" cried Mrs. Gerard, reverting with feminine insistence to the subject of their first difference. "What are you going to do about her?"

"Nothing."

"Remember, I refuse to share the same roof with her. You wouldn't ask it of your wife."

Now this second reference to a disagreeable subject was unfortunate. Gordon was given to the widest vagaries of temper, and this interview had exasperated him beyond measure, for he was strained by other worries. He exploded harshly:

"Please remember that you are not my wife! My ideas on matrimony will never change. You ought to know by this time that I am granite."

"I can't give up Natalie. I would give up much, for we women don't change, but—"

"A fallacy!" he laughed disagreeably. "Pardon me, Gloria, if I tell you that you do change; that you have changed; that time has left its imprint upon even you—a cruel fact, but true." He took a savage pleasure in her trembling, for she had roused all the devils in him and they were many.

"You are growing tired!"

"Not at all. But you have just voiced the strongest possible argument against marriage. We grow old. Age brings its alterations. I have ever been a slave to youth and beauty, and the years bring to me only an increasing appreciation, a more critical judgment, of the beautiful. If I chose to marry—well, frankly, the mature charms of a woman of my own age would have slight attraction for me."

"Then I will go," said Mrs. Gerard faintly.

"Not by any wish of mine," he assured her. "You are quite welcome to stay. Things will run along in the usual way—more smoothly, perhaps, now that we have attained a complete understanding. You have no place to go nor means with which to insure a living for yourself and Natalie. I would hate to see you sacrifice yourself and her to a Puritanical whim, for I love you much, and I'm sure I should miss you greatly. Some one must rule, and since nature has given me the right I shall exercise it. We will have no more rebellion."

"I wish I looked upon the matter as you do," she said slowly. "But other people haven't the same social ideas as we, I'm crushed, and she—Poor child! I don't know how she had the courage to face it. Now that she has heard the truth from my own lips I'm afraid it will kill her."

Gordon laughed. "Nonsense. Natalie is a sensible girl. Disillusionment is always painful, but never fatal. Sooner or later the young must confront the bald facts of life, and I venture to say she will soon forget her schoolgirl morality. Let me explain my views of—"

"Never!" cried the woman, agitated. "If you do I shall!" She checked herself and buried her face in her hands.

"I feel no regrets for myself—for I drifted with my eyes open—but this is different. Don't you understand? I am a mother. Or are you dead to all decent feeling?"

"My dear, I am the most tender hearted of men. Of course I shall say nothing, if you prefer, for I am subservient to your commands in all things. But calm yourself. What is done cannot be undone."

In more even tones Mrs. Gerard said: "You seem to think the matter is ended, but it isn't. Natalie will never allow us to continue this way, and it isn't just to her that we should. We can't go on, Curtis."

"You mean I must marry you?" She nodded.

He rose and paced the room before answering. "I always supposed you understood my views on that subject. Believe me, they are unalterable and in no way the result of a pose."

"Nevertheless, for my sake and Natalie's, you will do it. I can't lose the one thing I love best in the world."

"It would seem that Natalie has filled your head with silly notions," he exclaimed impatiently.

"She has awakened me. I have her life to consider as well as my own."

"We are all individuals, supreme in ourselves, responsible only to ourselves. We must all live our own lives. She cannot live yours nor you hers."

"I am familiar with your arguments," Mrs. Gerard said wearily. "but I have thought this all out, and there is no other way."

He frowned in his most impressive manner, and his chest swelled ominously.

"I will not be coerced. You know I can't be bullied into a thing. I deny that you have any right to demand—"

"I'm not demanding anything. I merely ask this—this favor, the first one I have ever asked. You see, my pride is crumbling. Don't answer now; let's wait until we are both calmer. The subject came up—at least she approached it by asking about the coal claims. She is worried about them."

"Indeed?"

"She was told by a friend in the land office that our rights had been forfeited. I assured her—"

"I refused to heed the absurd rulings of the department if that is what she refers to."

"Then we have lost?" Mrs. Gerard's pallor increased.

"Technically, yes! In reality I shall show that our titles were good and that our patents should issue."

"But—the woman's bloodless fingers were tightly interlaced—"all I have, all Natalie has, is in those claims."

"Yes! And it would require another fortune the size of both to comply with the senseless vagaries of the interior department and to protect your interests. I grew weary of forever sending good hard earned dollars after bad ones merely because of the shifting whim of some theorist 5,000 miles away."

"Then I am afraid!" Mrs. Gerard's voice trailed off miserably. "It is all we have and you told me—"

Gordon broke in irritably: "My dear Gloria, spare me this painful fault-finding. If I can win for you I shall do so, and then you will agree that I acted wisely. If I lose—it will merely be the luck of the average investor. We played for big returns and, of course, the risks were great."

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the feet and hands do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoon of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to clear from the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

H. K. THAW AGAIN DECLARED INSANE

Successfully Works Old Dodge in New Escapade.

NEW YORK KEEPS AFTER HIM

Counsel for Millionaire Declares He Can't Be Extradited—Record Now Is: Insane to Escape Electric Chair; Sane to Escape Asylum; Again Insane to Escape Assault Trial.

Philadelphia, Mar. 14.—Harry K. Thaw was adjudged a lunatic by the Common Pleas court of this city, and under the law cannot be taken to New York on requisition to stand trial on charges of assaulting Frederick Gump, Jr., a high school pupil of Kansas City, Mo. Thaw will be kept in St. Mary's hospital here pending his removal to a Pennsylvania asylum. The court's action was based on the report presented by a lunacy commission which took the testimony of Thaw and his mother.

Statement by Mrs. Thaw's Counsel. In announcing the conclusion of the lunacy commission James Gay Gordon, counsel for Mrs. Thaw, on whose behalf the lunacy proceedings were begun, made this statement: "The inquisition which met Monday and heard the case of Harry K. Thaw adjudged him to be a lunatic and the finding was filed in the court of common pleas.

Stops Extradition Proceedings. "Judge Martin made the usual appropriate order touching his person and estate. Thaw is now in the custody of the sovereignty of the state of Pennsylvania, represented by its court of chancery and under the control and protection of the court and laws of the commonwealth. This necessarily settles the question of his extradition and rings down the curtain on that proceeding.

"Mrs. Thaw and her family all desire, if possible, that the matter may be dropped for public exploitation. Thaw is now safe from harm to himself or others and the court will hold control and guard him. Anything with respect to him hereafter can only be done with the sanction of the court."

Mother Custodian of His Person. By the court's decree the police guard at Thaw's bedside will be withdrawn and a private guard substituted. The decree orders that Thaw stand committed to the hospital for the time being, pending his removal to another institution. In another decree Judge Martin appointed Thaw's mother custodian of his person.

New York to Keep Up Fight. New York, Mar. 14.—The decision of the common pleas court of Philadelphia declaring Harry K. Thaw insane, which it is believed there will frustrate attempts to bring him to this city for trial on charges of assaulting Frederick Gump Jr., will not deter District Attorney Swann, it was learned, from making application to Governor Brumbaugh for Thaw's extradition. This step will be taken, it was said, just as soon as the district attorney's office has been informed officially of the lunacy decision.

The impression that Thaw cannot be brought to New York for trial does not agree with two decisions of the United States supreme court, according to Assistant District Attorney Black. The Porter Charlton case was one instance, Mr. Black said, and the other was that of Drew versus Thaw in New Hampshire, when under a supreme court ruling Thaw was extradited from that state under conditions similar to the present one.

District Attorney to Act. "I intend to get in touch immediately with Governor Whitman and the attorney general," said District Attorney Swann, "and find out if the governor of Pennsylvania intends to refuse to abide by the requisition made on him by the governor of New York for the surrender of Harry Thaw."

J. B. Ogg Succeeds Calkins. SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Mar. 14. J. B. Ogg, principal of the high school at Palmyra, was appointed assistant examiner in the civil service department, to succeed E. B. Calkins of Chicago, resigned. Ogg headed the eligible list.

Paroled Man Taken. QUINCY, ILL., Mar. 14. Tom Barnes of Moberly, Mo., who, the police say, was pardoned by Governor Gardner from the Missouri state penitentiary, was arrested at Quincy on a charge of forgery.

Believed Glasford Slayer. PEORIA, ILL., Mar. 14. A man believed to be Albert Glasford, sought by the Peoria police for the murder of his wife April 26, 1904, has been arrested at Lincoln, Ill.

Looking Up Quincy's Advantages. QUINCY, ILL., Mar. 14. R. E. Bakenhus, engineer of the United States navy, has arrived at Quincy to view a site for the government armor plate plant.

K. of C. to Erect Lodge. DE KALB, ILL., Mar. 14. The local council of Knights of Columbus has purchased a site on the Lincoln highway and will erect a lodge temple.

Author Whose Mishap Gave Idea For a Novel

A year or so ago William Johnston, a well known editor and writer, had a mishap which made it necessary for him to use crutches for several months. Chafing under the inconvenience, he comforted himself by thinking how much harder lameness must be for an active boy at a period in life when practically all his amusements involve tests of physical endurance. Out of this grew the idea for Mr. Johnston's new novel, "Limp," recently published. It is the story of a boy who had to wear a brace on one leg. Irvin S. Cobb, after reading it, wrote that "somebody might have written a truer, sweeter, more appealing, more convincing story of a boy than 'Limp,' but nobody ever has."

Care of Young Goslings

There is very little that the owner can do to hurry the hatching of goose eggs, while under the mother, except to see that she is properly supplied with water and food in easily accessible channels, says the American Agriculturist. The period of incubation is from twenty-eight to thirty-three days, but averages thirty days. Do not feed the goslings until two days old, but give them tender, finely cut grass and water. They should not be allowed to swim, however, until they grow older. The first feed may be boiled oats or stale bread slightly moistened with water. Some poultrymen recommend bran, cornmeal or chick food. In any event, the feeding should be light and two-thirds or three-quarters should be made up of tender green food. There should be protected houses or coops where the goslings may have adequate shelter from the rain. After a week or ten days they may be safely turned out on good pasture. Fresh drinking water is supplied at all times.

Mother's Doll Story The Squirrel's House

There was once a nice toy dog of the name of Pip. He lived in a charming little doghouse that stood near the nursery window.

His master was Fred, about six years old. And when spring came Fred lost all interest in toy dogs and wanted a live squirrel.

"Papa, how can I get a pet squirrel?" he was always asking.

And, since he lived in a big city, where there were no squirrels except those in the parks, his daddy always said, "I'm sure I don't know, Fred."

But one beautiful sunny day his papa took Fred to the country, and there they found a very kind farmer who caught them a squirrel in a wooden trap.

When Fred got home what do you think he did with his toy dog—his old friend that had been his pet dog since he was a little baby? Why, he just pitched Pip out of the doghouse and put the squirrel in.

But Pip had a lovely disposition, and instead of barking and making a horrid fuss he ran right out in the kitchen for a bone to give the squirrel. But squirrels like nuts best, so Fred sold newspapers till he earned 10 cents to buy nuts for his new pet.

Home Rules For Young. Be prompt at every meal hour. Shut every door after you and without slamming it.

Let your first, last and best confidant be your mother.

Don't make a practice of shouting, jumping or running in the house. Never interrupt any conversation, but wait patiently your turn to speak.

The Lion's Tongue. The lion's tongue is so rough that it can be used to rasp the flesh from the bones. The horns, clawlike papillae, or prickles, are nearly a quarter of an inch long. It has been said that the cat uses her prickly tongue in the same way, but she uses it chiefly as a comb.

Charade. My first is to drink from; My second, to annoy; My whole is two verses. You have guessed it by now. Answer—Cup, let—couplet.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Dixon Readers

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell if it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this—Dixon woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. Della McGrail, 507 College Ave., Dixon says: "My kidneys were out of order. I had pains through my back and sides. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and used some. They gave me a complete cure that has proven permanent." (Statement given May 21, 1912.)

On January 21, 1915, Mrs. McGrail said: "I have had no kidney trouble since I endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills in 1912. The cure they gave me at that time has proven permanent."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. McGrail has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS.

The Large and Puzzling Part "Man Failure" Plays in Them.

Close observers are not astounded by the statement made at a "safety" meeting that 10 per cent. only of industrial accidents are due to machine failures, the remaining 90 per cent being wholly chargeable to "man failure."

Students, however, will not be satisfied with the simple statement, but will want to know something more, especially as to conditions that contribute to this appallingly large percentage charged directly to man's share in the fault.

It will not do to say that in each instance wanton carelessness is blameable. Psychologists are no longer content with that explanation, but are going deeper into the causation of accidents, seeking to determine just why the normal mental processes at times break and the interrupted co-ordination between brain and body ends in disaster.

In the matter of interpreting railway signals, for example, it has been set up that registered impressions vary as to individuals and that likewise individuals react in different ways to the impressions given.

Emergencies invariably arise in the operations of modern industry similar to those in the transportation service, and, while the safety device may work with mechanical accuracy, the human factor cannot be depended upon.—Omaha Bee.

FRUIT AS A FOOD.

Only Figs, Dates and Maybe Bananas Are Really Nutritious.

"Fruit of all kinds, when mature and fresh, is beneficial for healthful digestion, good quality of blood and as a preventive of clogging of the liver, kidneys and skin and, last but not least, the brain.

"It is a mistake, however," writes W. Howard James, M. D., in Good Health, "to look on fruit as a source of nourishment. It should not be taken with that idea. It should be looked on more as the lubricator which makes the machinery work harmoniously and without destructive friction.

"Some fruits may certainly be ranked as food, such as figs, dates and perhaps bananas. Those in the tropics, who live largely on the banana, we are told, develop considerable abdominal distention on account of the quantity taken. With the exception of the date and the fig, fruit should never be considered as a food.

"The taking of fruit often does good by lessening the amount of food taken. We are a generation of dyspeptics on account of excess of food, insufficient oxidation and lack of proper supply of fruit and pure water."

Codfish Will Eat Anything.

The cod has the reputation of being an omnivorous as the goat, whose appetite for posters and old tin cans is the subject of frequent jests. The varied nature of what the cod swallows is not more remarkable than the enormous quantity. According to a writer in the Scotsman, such articles as silver brooches, clasp knives, books and rubber balls have been found in its stomach. One fisherman of Aberdeen has a stone that weighs more than a pound taken from a cod that had swallowed it for the sea anemones with which it was covered. The same fisherman has also found specimens of almost all the stalk-eyed crustaceans that frequent the northeast coast of Scotland and of every kind of fish that a cod can master, including its own young. Cod have been known to swallow partridges, gullmots and hares.

Dangerous Sport.

First Lady (reading a newspaper)—This golf seems to be a very dangerous game. Did you see what happened to a man named Taylor? He went into a bunker and was in two when he came out.

Second Lady—How dreadful!
"Yes, here are the words, 'Taylor getting out in two; Braid secured a half.'"

"Well, Tommy?"
"Does it say what happened to the other half?"

"No, but there was worse to follow. According to the report, Taylor then fell completely to pieces."—Exchange.

Altering the Map Without War.

In a world where nations grow and decay, where forces change and populations become cramped, it is not possible or desirable to maintain the status quo forever. If peace is to be preserved, nations must learn to accept unfavorable alterations of the map without feeling that they must first be defeated in war or that in yielding they incur a humiliation.—Bertrand Russell in Atlantic Monthly.
